Watch for our NEW Corporate Video Coming Soon!

A new updated version of the Classic Communities Corporate Video will soon be available for viewing. Here we present an older version, which profiles our Classic Villa community. Following the trend of previous Classic Communities, this development has now been finished and completely sold.

That being said, we hope that you will still take the time to view this informative video, which will outline for you some of the benefits of owning versus renting your own home and the practices that Classic Communities have instigated to make their homes affordable. It will also give you an insiders look at the floorplans and quality craftsmanship that goes into each Classic home, and allow you to hear firsthand a number of testimonials and endorsements of Classic's innovative and unique approach to affordable housing.

To view this older version, please click on the video screen above, which can take up to a minute to load. We thank you for your patience.
